Mrs. McKinley is better.

LATER.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY.

The alteration in the date for the observance of King Edward's birthday was a misapprehension, due to the King having directed the Courts of Law and Government Offices to close this year on the 24th of May.
There will be no other official celebration on that date.

Intending purchasers are advised to order early. See advertisement appearing elsewhere.

THE Hon. Treasurer of the Alice Memorial and Netherlands Hospitals begs to acknowledge with thanks the following donation to the funds of the Hospitals:—

Ho Ngok Lau .....$50

We would remind our readers of the sale by auction to-morrow by Messrs. Hughes & Hough of the steamer Sobraon, with her gear, engines, boilers, coal in her bunkers, etc., as per our advertisement, at 12 o'clock noon.

Mr. P. H. Herlihy, who was chief engineer of the Rio de Janeiro, has failed in his injunction suit to restrain the U. S. Inspectors from refusing to issue him a chief engineer's license. The U. S. Circuit Court decided that it had no jurisdiction.

THE official returns of cases of communicable disease reported as occurring in the Colony during the week ended 18th May show:— Bubonic Plague, 122 cases, 113 deaths, all but 19 of the cases being from the City; Enteric Fever, 2 cases 2 deaths, both Chinese.

We (Globe) have received a post-card which left London for Hongkong on February 8th, arrived there on March 13th, and on the same day was re-despatched to London, where it was received on April 13th. As the return was made by way of Vancouver, the post-card has actually made the circuit of the world in sixty-four days, which is sixteen less than Jules Verne dreamed of. Our contemporary, says the L. & C. Express, mentions via Vancouver, but this is evidently a mistake. The mail delivered on 13th came via Tacoma. The post-card probably came up from Hongkong to Yokohama by a chance steamer and just caught the Northern Pacific steamer leaving for Tacoma.

In the Yokohama Ku Suibansho, on the 10th instant before Judge Tanuma, judgment was given in the case connected with the protest raised by Mr. Gilmour, third officer, of the British steamer Ajax, against judgment given in default in the same Court on the 22nd April ordering him to pay damages of yen 49 to the coolie Tanaka Shotaro for causing injury to to the latter. The Judge (the Japan Herald states) gave judgment that Gilmour should pay damages of yen 18.66 to Tanaka, and that the costs of Court previous to the judgment by default should be borne by the petitioner, while those after the judgment should be borne by both parties, the appellant paying two-fifths and the respondent three-fifths.

The convict Soar, who escaped from Borsal prison last November, has had a fine of liberty before returning to gaol again. He seems to have acted on the clever theory that the best thing to do is the most unlikely. Together with his fellow-convict King, who was recaptured in January, he walked straight up to town after breaking out of prison, and went to his father's house in Deptford. And all the while column upon column was decorating the half-penny press describing desperate men in full flight through the woods, or holding up a mail car, and of terrorized cottagers propitiating them by meals set outside the door! Soar, in unjour-nalistic fact, was living at his father's all the time, and he had little difficulty in finding work. The family were known in the neighbourhood, and so certain precautions appear to have been adopted about his comings in and goings out.
If no watch had been kept at all, it may be that Soar would be still at large, since they aroused the suspicions of P. C. Stiles. We are rather sorry for Soar, says the Pail Mail Gazette, whose adventures might, with a little ingenuity, be worked up into a good detective story. But as he has a consistently maintained record of crime, it is just as well that Borsal should reclaim him.

STAFF-PAVMASTER Harrison Smith, who has been appointed secretary to Vice-Admiral Sir Cyprian Bridge, Commander-in-Chief on the China Station, has had a more varied experience than usually falls to the lot of members of the accountant branch of the navy. In addition to having on two occasions served in the Sudan with the Naval Brigade as A.D.C. and quartermaster, he has twice been on a mission to Abyssinia. On the first occasion he accompanied the late Sir W. Hewitt, Governor of the Red Sea, Littoral, whose secretary he then was, as accountant officer of the mission. In 1886 he went himself as special envoy to King Johna, to convey an autograph letter from the Queen Victoria and a sword of honour, as a mark of the Queen's gratitude for services rendered in relief of Sudan garrisons. The chief importance of Mr. Harrison Smith's mission on this occasion, however, lay in the fact that he was entrusted with the delicate task of settling certain vexed questions between Italy and Abyssinia. On his return he visited Rome, en route to England, and was well received in the Italian capital. For his services on this occasion he was specially promoted. In 1899 Mr. Harrison Smith published his Abyssinian experiences in an entertaining volume, entitled "Through Abyssinia: An Envoy's Ride to the King of Zion." Recently he has been serving on the special committee on the victualling of the navy, appointed by the Admiralty.—United Service Gazette.

We shall be obliged, if any subscriber on receiving his paper late or irregularly will write on the Wrapper of the paper the Time of delivery, etc., and forward the Wrapper to the Manager, Hongkong Telegraph Co., Ltd., 50 Queen's Road Central. The wrapper will enable us to check the delivery coolies.

THE King has been pleased to approve of Mr.
Oscar F. Williams as Consul-General of the United States of America at Singapore; Mr.
Otto Gumprecht as Consul of Germany at Hongkong; Mr. Donald A. Stewart as Consul of Spain at Liverpool; Mr. James W. Murray as Consul of Spain at Glasgow; Don Jesús M.
Zúñiga as Consul of Peru at Hongkong.

It may be noticed that we are publishing a gazette of interest to the shipping community generally, giving the names of officers on leave, promotions, transfers, etc. We imagine it will be found useful by many shipping people here, who can see at a glance where their friends are at the time. We shall be much obliged for any information from our readers tending to keep the column up to date.

A PLIMMOUTH correspondent states that the Admiralty has cancelled the order to Keyham factory to construct thirty-six Belleville water-tube boilers for the cruiser Encounter, and directed that the boilers shall be of the Durr type. The Encounter will be the first vessel

Dean and Chapter's Perquisites.

Truth, in speaking of the Coronation which is to take place towards the end of June, says:—The Dean and Chapter of Westminster are entitled to claim as "perquisites" every article which is taken into the Abbey for the purposes of the Coronation, and that reverend body reaped rich harvests in 1827; 1831, and 1838. When the Queen was crowned there was a hand-to-hand fight after her Majesty had retired from the scene, between Lord Conyngham and one of the dignitaries, for a magnificent silver inkstand which had been in use, and the Lord Chamberlain, who was victorious in the struggle, hurried out of the Abbey with the inkstand in his arms, and rushed off in his carriage, accompanied by "my perquisite." It is probable that on the present occasion there will be a departure from the old precedent under which the Dean and Chapter derived so much benefit, and that is a matter which will have to be considered by the Council Committee when the estimates from the various departments come to be considered. In 1831 the original estimates which were sent in amounted to upwards of £100,000, but they were so ruthlessly cut down by the Privy Council Committee that the Coronation of King William and Queen Adelaide cost something under £50,000.

Young Woman Shedding Needles.

The latest Parisian marvel is affording a chemist of Saint Germain a unique experience. Since the middle of April, a girl, sixteen years old, a domestic servant at a grocer's on the Marché Neuf, has been going to him several times a day to have needles drawn from her flesh. "He keeps on his table for the purpose three pairs of nippers of different shapes and an electro-magnet." She will come in quite suddenly, and remark that she feels a needle in her arm, or under her eye, or in her neck. The chemist is aware there is not a minute to lose, for if the point of the needle is not caught at once as it appears at the surface of the skin, it disappears, and wanders to some other part of the body. M. Mouchy has already extracted one hundred and twenty needles from this girl's body, and every day others are appearing. The greater number come to light in the left arm or the left hand, and round the right eye, but he has drawn needles from the neck, the ear, the shoulder, the breast, and the feet. The arm is swollen and covered with little scars. The needles come out as if they were new. The girl, who is well-made and healthy, was eleven years of age when she made bets with other girls as to who would swallow the largest number of needles. One day she swallowed forty-nine. They went down her throat, she says, as easily as bread, but once she nearly choked, having by mistake swallowed her needles, points downwards. She feels a slight itching as the needle makes its way through the skin. The extraction is painless.

Kumasi Commemoration Dinner.

The officers who commanded the field force which relieved Kumasi gave a dinner on the 17th ult. in commemoration of that event, and Sir James Willcocks took the chair. Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Brodick were both present, and made admirable speeches, in which full justice was done to a very remarkable achievement. Mr. Chamberlain pointed out that there was in one sense no parallel in military history to the Ashanti Field Force, which was composed of men of colour, but was composed entirely of men of colour. These troops, he said, as easily as bread, but once she nearly choked, having by mistake swallowed her needles, points downwards. She feels a slight itching as the needle makes its way through the skin. The extraction is painless.

Do You Play Bridge?

The inquiry "Do you play Bridge?" bids fair to become an indispensable preliminary, which if not satisfied by an answer in the affirmative, affords an unsurmountable barrier to the invitation to dinner, which the inquirer intends to follow. In fact the craze for this game promises to develop into a positive nuisance, and to seriously disturb the freedom and comfort of social relations. Seekers after prandial pleasures, now find themselves compelled to seek instruction in the mysteries of Bridge at the hands of professors in order to obtain the essential qualification for invitation to houses where they have hitherto been welcome without it. Dinner is hurried through and conversation confined within the smallest possible compass in order that a move may be made to the card-table, with as little delay as possible. All this is neither healthy nor dignified, and the misfortune is that, despite anything which may be said to the contrary, it is fostering and encouraging the gambling spirit, and worst of all among many very young men and women. We are fain to hope that, like many other extravagances, it may die out, but we are not very sanguine on the subject.

The Gold Seam at Leith.

Gold in Leith! Why not? But its inhabitants, being prudent folk, will shake their heads and say "Eh, mon," or use some other local equivalent for the expression of philosophic doubt. One nugget does not make a gold mine, though the Leith Herald Pilot vouches that it contains thirty ounces to the ton. There is no ton, that is the worst part of the business. The seam was struck while the workmen were digging the foundations of the new hospital building, and it dips after running for three feet. We fear that it has gone off to Klondyke. The find does not seem substantial enough, anyhow, to warrant the canny folk of Leith in handing over their hearts and homes to the voracious company-promoter, even if they come in "on the ground-floor." Let Leith stand firm. And when you come to think of it, the company-promoter will hardly venture to place them in the way of temptation. Specious short cuts to wealth are best discovered in the wilds of Westralia or the uplands of West Africa, not in the heart of a city populated by long-headed Scots.

Warning to Volunteers.

Recollections of the arrest of Dreyfus and of the flash of Du Puy de Clam's bull's-eye are brought back by the new Army Order to the Volunteers against the communication of information about the armament and defences of fortresses to the Press. Have we, too, our alleged traitors? The cynic might be disposed to remark that no British fortress contained any secrets, and that, for that matter, this country contains uncommonly few fortresses worthy of the name. And it is, of course, not a case of treachery but of babbling. The information is conveyed out of mere good nature, and it is innocuous enough as a rule. A young officer or a promising sergeant, keen on work, lets himself go in his letters home, and his words are indiscreet enough to show those letters about. But instances might conceivably occur in which a Woolwich secret, the mechanism of a new gun for instance, passed into the enemy's possession through the general avidity for news. If only for discipline's sake, besides, the Secretary for War has done well to caution the Volunteers that soldier's duties should carry with them soldiers' sense of professional honour.

THE FAR EAST.

There is nothing new to note with regard to the situation in China. No agreement, it would appear, has yet been reached among the Powers upon the various questions relating to the indemnities which are to be paid by China. It is believed that the total indemnity to be demanded will amount to about £60,000,000 or over. Preparations for the evacuation of China by the foreign troops appear to be steadily progressing. It is stated that Russia has suggested to the Powers a reduction of her claim for compensation in return for the signing of the rejected treaty and certain additional concessions in connection with the Siberian Railway. The King has been pleased to approve of Mr. Oscar F. Williams as Consul-General for the United States of America at Singapore. Mr. Otto Gumprecht as Consul of Germany at Hongkong. Mr. Donald A. Stewart as Consul at Sima, at Liverpool. Mr. James W. Murray as Consul of Siam at Glasgow. Don Jovis M. Zuniga as Consul of Peru at Hongkong. Captain Truppel, Imperial German Navy, the new Governor of Kiaochow, and his family, was to leave Genoa for Tsing-tao, per Norddeutscher Lloyd steamer, on 30th ult. The two sons of the King of Siam, who are now studying at Cambridge, will pay a visit shortly to Berlin. The annual meeting of the China Association has been held. An official paper relating to China was issued on the 18th ult. It contains a review by Sir Claude MacDonald of the events in Peking last year.—L. and C. Express.

THE CHARTERED BANK OF INDIA, AUSTRALIA AND CHINA.

From The Money Market Review of April 20th, 1901.

The 47th ordinary general meeting of the shareholders of this company was held at the Canton Street Hotel, E.C., on Wednesday last, under the presidency of Mr. J. Howard Gwyther.

Mr. William A. Main (joint manager) having read the notice convening the meeting and the directors' report and balance-sheet having been taken as read.

The Chairman said: The directors, in submitting the annual report for 1900, are confident that the shareholders will receive the statement with satisfaction. The results have only been obtained by hard work, incessant vigilance and prudence on the part of the executive, and as a mark of their appreciation, the court have unanimously voted to the staff a bonus of 10 per cent. upon their salaries. To be successful a bank must have the intelligent sympathy, as well as the mechanical services, of its officers, and to reach that ideal the men who are mainly responsible for the progress of the institution must feel that their endeavours are appreciated in a practical fashion. Those of you who take an interest in the welfare of India will have noted the gratifying report of the Finance Minister recently issued. Despite the two scourges of famine and plague, the country is progressing. Happily the people are now saved from the third evil—intestinal warfare—which so constantly devastated the land in the days prior to British rule. The Government are to be congratulated upon the decision they have come to in respect of the profit on the coinage. They have determined to set aside those earnings (£3,000,000) for the present, until they see more clearly the outcome of the new departure. Their recent large purchases of silver would appear to show that they have fallen into line with expressed opinion of the Chambers of Commerce and banks, and are resolved to maintain a reserve of ten crores of rupees in the Currency Department. The question is frequently put, How is it that the price of silver has not risen materially in view of such heavy buying by the Indian Government? The answer is that their action has saved the white metal from a heavy decline. Since they commenced operations in the Far East has not required to be supplemented by dollars, as the large sums previously sent have more than sufficed for the wants of the Straits Settlements. At the present juncture there are some industrial rocks ahead, which it will require skilful pilotage to avoid. Indigo, which has for a century played an important part in the well-being of Behar, is confronted with a serious competitor, in the shape of an artificial dye. After ten years of patient analysis, German chemists have produced a merchantable commodity, which threatens disaster to the Eastern grower. We will hope that the use of adversity will bring about a sensible reduction in the cost of production, and that science, aided by Government subsidies, will render the plant more prolific, thereby enabling the Indian industry to successfully compete with its Western adversary. The cultivation of tea has also received a check, but that has been caused by production oversteering consumption. The rivalry between India and Ceylon is now bearing bitter fruit, and the survival of the fittest appears to be the only solution of the difficulty, unless, which is problematical, a general agreement to reduce picking is maintained for the next two or three years. I notice that the cultivation of linseed is rapidly increasing in Argentina. As you know, India is also a large grower, and this rivalry will tend to depress prices, and make it very necessary for the latter to adopt all possible methods of economy in cultivation and to improve the quality of her young and vigorous fruit from outside her country. Since we last met in October diplomacy in China has not made much advance. Warring interests have produced infirmity of purpose, and the Chinese have allowed negotiations to hang fire, hoping to weary the Ambassadors, or, still better, to produce disunion amongst the European nations. I think the English, whose chief aim is to foster trade, should endeavour to minimise the indemnity, and thereby keep within moderate bounds the necessity for increased taxation. The bait is held out of an abolition of light, concurrent with an increase of the import duties, but in the present corrupt condition of the native civil service this would probably prove to be a delusion and a snare, and officials, who have to exist mainly by indirect methods, would continue their squeezes, more especially the monetary demands from Peking and Indu with a new advent of a new loan. The posturings advertised for the cure of the Chinese "impasse" bring to my mind the condition of affairs during the stay of Paul at Ephesus—"Some therefore cried one thing and some another." Truly our Foreign Minister needs a level head and sober judgment amidst so much discord. Once these allies have settled terms of peace it is to be hoped that the Government will resume its ordinary avocations, and the people be permitted to quiet down. This will not be the case if foreigners of all sorts and conditions are allowed to roam at their sweet will over the country, seeking concessions and trampling upon the prejudices of the natives. If we desire to see a stable government we must not attempt a policy which would leave out of consideration the wishes of the people. The Chinaman is slow to move, and slow to see, and slow to change. It is gratifying to notice that, despite the abnormal condition of trade, the Customs yielded last year a sum sufficient to meet the requirements of the foreign loans. In Japan, thanks to a dull silk season and the continuance of excessive imports, the balance of trade has remained adverse, with a consequent export of gold. There is no appearance, at the present juncture, of a reduction in the national expenditure, which would so greatly strengthen the financial position, and in the absence of that desideratum, another foreign loan would appear to be the only means of replenishing the cash reserves of the country. As regards our interests in Manila, the bank has no politics, but we must recognise in the re-election of a Republican President a determination to continue the mastery of the United States in the Philippines, with consequent protection to life and property. Under a wise and strong control those fertile islands will prove a most satisfactory dependency, but the inhabitants must be clearly taught that the Government will be continuous, and that there is no intention of abandonment and consequent relapse into barbarism. I do not think that the Americans have ever fully appreciated their responsibility in this matter. When they drove the Spaniards out of Manila they had to take upon themselves the consequences resulting therefrom. No question of internal politics should ever interfere with the duty they owe to the inhabitants and to civilisation. Gentlemen, I beg to move the following resolution:—That the report now presented, together with the balance sheet and profit and loss account, be approved and adopted.

Mr. Emilie Levita: I have much pleasure in seconding the resolution.

The resolution was put and carried unanimously.

The Chairman: I beg to move, "That a dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. free of income tax, for the half-year to December 31st, be now declared, payable on and after the 24th inst."

Mr. William Christian: I beg to second it. The resolution was then unanimously agreed to.

The Chairman: I now have to move, "That Sir Henry Stewart Cunningham, K.C.I.E., who now retires by rotation, be re-elected a director."

Sir Alfred Dent, K.C.M.G., seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

The Chairman: I have also to move, "That Mr. Henry Neville Gladstone, who now retires by rotation, be re-elected a director."

The motion was seconded by Mr. Jasper Young, and unanimously agreed to.

The Chairman: Now, gentlemen, I have to ask you to elect your auditors, and to inform you that Mr. Maurice Nelson Girdlestone and Mr. Magnus Mowat again offer themselves for re-election.

Mr. James Jones: I have great pleasure in proposing, "That Mr. Maurice Nelson Girdlestone and Mr. Magnus Mowat be re-elected auditors for the ensuing year."

Mr. Benjamin Smyth seconded the motion, which was carried.

Mr. James Jones: I beg to propose that the best thanks of the shareholders be given to the directors and staff for their successful management of the bank. Some two years ago I said that directly railways were commenced in China it would be the signal for the biggest rebellion that country has ever seen. I think that in a great measure that prophecy is well borne out by the events at Peking, but that is nothing to what it will be when we begin mining or travelling through the hilly regions of Southern China, where every hillcock is a grave, and where every mountain contains thousands of them. The inhabitants will all be up in arms, the native troops will certainly sympathise with them, and foreign troops will be required to guard the workers on the railways, and also the railways themselves after they are made. With regard to the resolution, I may say that I have been a large shareholder of the bank for the last thirty years, and have shown my confidence in the management by never selling a share.

Mr. Benjamin Smyth seconded the motion, which was unanimously adopted.

The Chairman: Gentlemen, on behalf of my colleagues, the staff, and myself, I beg to thank you for your vote of thanks.

The proceedings then terminated.

THE FAR EAST IN PARLIAMENT.

THE YANGTZE VICEROYS.

In answer to Mr. Channing, Viscount Cranborne said on the 18th ult.: We have been in frequent communication with the Viceroy at Nanking and Wuchang, since the flight of the Court from Peking, and the Consuls-General at Shanghai and Hankow were recently desired to inform them that their patriotic conduct during the recent crisis was highly appreciated by His Majesty's Government.

CHINESE LABOUR IN RHODESIA. Mr. Chamberlain answered in the negative a question by Mr. W. Redmond as to whether His Majesty's Government had sanctioned the importation of Chinese labourers into Rhodesia.

FRANCE AND THE BRITISH SUBMARINES.

The Pall Mall Gazette of the 19th ult. says:—There is bluer disappointment in the minds of French newspaper writers that the British Admiralty have so promptly taken up the problem of the submarine boat. We have stolen the brains of their naval inventors, they say, and they are very wroth. Says the Journal de la Marine—

We have seriously believed that in all the great modifications that have been brought about in the construction of submarines is the result of the important changes which the last fifty years of the century have produced in the art of naval warfare. All these changes have been sought out, experimented upon, studied, and finally realized by France, who has also been the first to apply them. These results have established in a brilliant and incontestable manner the skill of our engineers, but our rivals have not only appropriated the results of our labours, but they have not been slow to place themselves on equal terms with us, and finally to excel us in the application of these discoveries. We have been only the humble artisans working for them to establish their superiority.

All this, it is added, is due to the industrial supremacy of England. France built a commerce destroyer, D'Entrecasteaux, of 8,000 tons, and with a speed of 19 knots. She was to prey on English ships of commerce like a second Alabama. And Great Britain replied to the threat by building the Toungus and the Terrible, each of 14,000 tons and 27 knots, and the efforts of France were thus brought to naught; and the Journal wearily complains that "It is easy for England to place three armed cruisers for service where we can only place one."

ENGLAND REAPS WHERE FRANCE HAS SOWN. In the question of submarines Great Britain has pursued the same perfidious conduct. Very quietly the British still until France had done all the preliminary work of experiment and trial, and now, after something of the nature of a real engine for naval war has been produced by their engineers, Britain quietly steps in and begins at the point France had reached. "It is very disappointing, of course. But it is even worse than that."

The English Government have not chosen to contribute by their own researches and work to upset a state of things to which the supremacy of the British Navy is due; the appearance of a boat which will plunge under the water and act on the offensive within a considerable radius of action has enlarged the question. At present all they wish is the protection of coasts and harbours.

But it was the intention of France to place herself in a position of offence towards England. In the near future the types Narval and Holland, being invisible enemies, would be in a position to operate against the English coasts and "carry destruction" into the midst of the naval forces which protect them. They would be able to seek and hunt out these same forces even in the harbours and roads where they are lying at anchor.

But the ability of England to reply with some other equally good engine and protect herself as she has always done oppresses the writers' mind.

On the other hand, if England with any chance of success is able to oppose with the torpedo-destroyer, or some other force of an equalizing nature, she will render all this impossible to the submarine. There will be some other means of defence against these redoubtable engines, though the solution does not appear to be near. England will find her best means of protection to attack the coasts of the enemy. Anyways, she has five submarines on the stocks, and it is believed that these will be followed shortly by others. The English have kept it a great secret. They have allowed a time of serious observation and attention to pass not with indifference before entering on the path opened by other nations.

WHAT FRANCE IS DOING.

The writer takes consolation from the reflection that, although England does begin, it is easy for her to put three armed cruisers where France can only put one, yet the start in submarines which France has revolutionized the conditions of naval war, and he hopes, is such that she need not fear what England can do for a long time to come. "Doubtless," he says, "more than a year will pass before the Holland, or vessels of that class, however perfect they may be, can really be placed on service." Then follows an enumeration of France's flotilla of submarines:—

We possess already four submarines in service actually employed in the same work as torpedo-boats—the Gymote, the Gustave Zede, the Morphe, and the Narval. The Francis and the Karrigon will follow the Gymote and the Lutin at Rochefort. At Cherbourg four are now on the stocks—the Silure, Trilon, Silène, and Escapade. During this year twenty-three more will be placed on the stocks, which will make altogether thirty-seven submarines.

These will make a most formidable fleet, sporting like porpoises round the English warships in the Channel and along her shores and holding them at the mercy of France. "The fact that England should launch into their construction shows that they are more menacing to her than to us," adds the writer complacently. But France is not to sit down quietly.

But since we have made a very real advance in that which concerns the submarine, let us work without ceasing to preserve this superiority. Our engineers, who have succeeded so brilliantly, will be able to work for themselves new improvements in profiting by the experience already acquired.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY. THERAPION.

This successful and highly popular remedy, as employed in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Jobert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed.

THERAPION No. 1, in a few days only, removes all discharges from the urinary organs, effectually superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. In dysentery, piles, irritation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the more trying complaints of this kind, it will be found astonishingly efficacious, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION No. 2, for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints, secondary symptoms, disease of the bones, sore throat, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, &c., to the destruction of the sufferer's teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION No. 3, for nervous exhaustion, waste of vitality, and all the distressing consequences arising from early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated.

THERAPION may be procured of the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the world. Price in England 2/6 and 4/6. In ordering, the purchaser should state which of the three numbers he requires, and observe that the word "THERAPION" appears on the Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every genuine package by order of Her Majesty's Hon. Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

Sold by A. S. WATSON & Co., Limited, Hongkong, China and Manila.
